DEVELOPMENT

Item 1

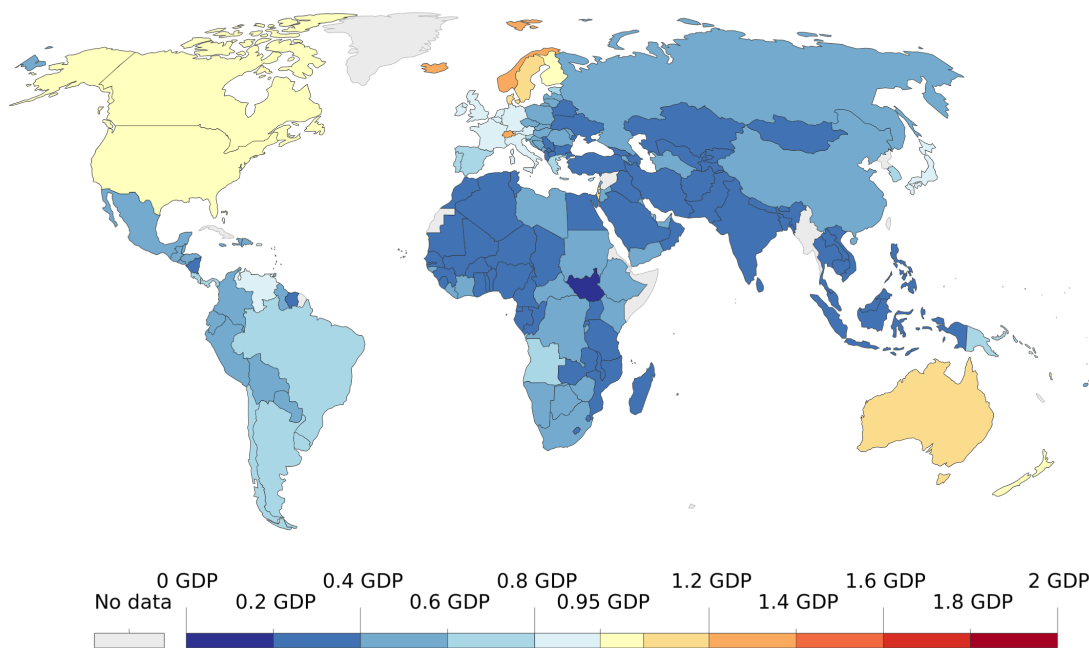

Scenario

Much as Uganda has tried in reducing her index in terms of heavy indebt burden, there are still areas of concern that Uganda is still struggling with in order to meet with her economic growth in the country's development. Its economy, social being and political strategies are still down when compared to that of China, Japan, Russia among the developed nations. According to the United Nations HDI, Uganda's Growth Domestic Product, GDP is still low due to several loopholes that she is facing.

Support Material

GDP price levels relative to the US, 2017

Figures correspond to the 'price level ratio of PPP conversion factors to market exchange rates'. It measures differences in price levels at the gross domestic product (GDP) level. A value of <1 indicates the the market exchange rate underestimates the real value of the currency once domestic prices are taken into account.
